CARRINGTON, ND (January 29, 2015) - Duane DeKrey, Bismarck, is now a key leader for the Garrison Diversion Conservancy District in Carrington, North Dakota. Duane began his work for the district as Deputy Manager in March 2014 and assumed his duties as General Manager on January 1, 2015.

DeKrey most recently served as the deputy director of the North Dakota Game and Fish Department. Prior to that position, he served ten sessions in the Legislature, one session as a Senator from District 31, and the remaining from District 14, serving on the House Natural Resources Committee. “I’m excited about coming to Garrison Diversion and to be a part of completing critical water projects that are in the works,” says DeKrey. “It’s an important mission to bring good quality water in sustainable quantities to the citizens of North Dakota.”

“We are happy to welcome Duane and embrace the knowledge and experience he brings to Garrison Diversion. His political experience within the legislature has been highly beneficial to our organization,” says Ken Vein, chairman of the board. “Duane is a positive addition to our staff as he’s become acclimated to the critical issues on our plate and is assisting us in moving forward.”
